Congratulations to the winners as well as to my own heroes of the night: Ben for getting round in an amazing time with just a candlelight, Karolina for still going out after an hour's wait in the car for her Dad to return from his course, and the new devotees of night-O for getting round successfully. (Susan says she even knew where she was on her course!)

Sorry if control 7 on the Long Course was a bad one – I wanted to make some controls more challenging, but it seems to have given some of you a lot of trouble, so maybe you considered it unfair. I hope it didn't spoil the beautiful moonlit night for you.

Many thanks to Dave, Dave and Dave for collecting controls, to Mike for loan of his watch when the digital clock refused to find a satellite, and to Roger for his hat and gloves, for printing the maps and for helping with the results. Also to any other kind person I have forgotten to mention.
