Another Glorious day of Orienteering. They say after a nuclear holocaust the only things to survive will be cockroach, I disagree. I think stumbling out of the ruins covered in mud and covered in scratches, with a stumbling half walk half run will be a dishevelled person holding a compass in one hand and a charred piece saying I think the map needs a review. A big huge dollop of respect to all who braved the weather and the beast that is MM Country Park.

Thanks to Roger and Oscar for helping get controls
