Hope you all enjoyed the first outing of the night season. Clyne Gardens provides a nice Intro to night events as it has a distinct boundary and provides parkland orienteering which is relatively straightforward though tricky in places with the mix of vegetation and intricate path network.

Next night event is in two weeks on Cefn Bryn which will be quite different and can be a challenge.

[The use of a map exchange allows you to utilise a small area without having a very cluttered course on the map. For those interested OCAD makes this very easy to produce. You basically just draw the full course on the map and insert a 'map exchange object' at the relevant control. When you print the course it automatically produces the two maps.]
